The award celebrating the IPOPI community.

IPOPI BIG Award

The BIG Award is a new IPOPI Community Award celebrating Bold, Innovative and Game-changing (BIG) NMO projects. This award is designed to value good practice projects from our NMOs and to support benchmarking efforts.

IPOPI invites all NMOs to submit a project from the last two years that has had a BIG impact in your country. You can also submit a project from another country that you find inspiring.

We hope you take this opportunity to spotlight inspiring projects and contribute to the development and growth of the IPOPI community.

Why is the BIG Award important?

“Together we have built a global family working with, and representing, all patients affected by a primary immunodeficiency. Even if we come from different countries and cultures, we all share the concerns and hopes associated with these conditions. Every single national member organisation is doing amazing work for the sake of the patients in its country. The value of a global family is to share, learn from each other and celebrate. Here comes the IPOPI BIG award; our community award meant to highlight the good work and allow each of our members to inspire and get inspired.”
