

Prof Intan Hakimah

Professor Dr Intan Hakimah Ismail is currently the Head of Clinical Immunology Unit at the Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences, Universiti Putra Malaysia (UPM). She is the first female Clinical Immunologist in Malaysia, and now serves as a Consultant Paediatric Clinical Immunologist and Allergist at the UPM Teaching Hospital (HPUPM). She obtained her subspecialty training and PhD in Allergy and Clinical Immunology from the University of Melbourne, and Murdoch Children's Research Institute, Melbourne, Australia. She has started the Clinical Immunology and Allergy services in UPM since 2012 and receives case referrals from all over Malaysia. She is currently the Vice President of Malaysian Society of Allergy and Immunology (MSAI), and a Board Member of the Asia Pacific Association of Allergy Asthma and Clinical Immunology (APAAACI) Food Allergy & Anaphylaxis. She is also the Associate Editor of the Malaysian Journal of Medicine and Health Sciences (MJMHS). Her research interest includes primary immunodeficiency diseases, food allergy, gut microbiota, and probiotics.