

Dr Jonie Tillah

Dr Tillah is a prominent figure in Allergy/Immunology. With an MD from the University of the Philippines, she completed her residency and fellowship in New York before returning to Manila to establish her practice. She was instrumental in establishing PHILPOPI, a vital support group for PID patients in the Philippines and is actively involved in advocating for PID awareness and government support. Her dedication to improving healthcare extends beyond clinical work to training future physicians and contributing to research initiatives.