

Dr Jaime Sou Da Rosa Duque

Dr Jaime completed a PhD studying immunologic dysregulations in diabetic patients. He subsequently completed medical school and clinical immunology training in the US and then Hong Kong. Dr Jaime has interests in genomics, cellular mechanisms, clinical outcomes and epidemiology of inborn errors of immunity, immunodysregulatory and autoinflammatory disorders. He is engaged in an international network of immunologists whose patients have suspected or confirmed inborn errors of immunity.